

HARRY G. BROADMAN

+1 202 460 4903 / harry@harrygbroadman.com

Harry G. Broadman is a veteran multinational corporate finance, enterprise restructuring, and business growth strategy operating executive and a non-executive corporate director.

Broadman's 38-plus year career is marked by deep operational expertise across financial services, private equity, and investment banking; emerging and advanced technology industries; infrastructure, logistics and utilities; and energy, minerals and natural resources.

He is worldwide renowned practitioner and authority on C-suite decision-making and board oversight of business operations that capitalize on new market opportunities and mitigate risks in order to attain competitive advantage by structuring and financing innovative cross-border investment transactions, M&A, and JVs; agile management of global supply chains; executing robust corporate governance, compliance and cybersecurity practices; proactively investing in applied R&D and intellectual property; adeptly navigating national and international regulatory regimes; and judicious implementation of CSR and ESG initiatives.

His professional experience is uniquely geographically expansive: he has worked in all the advanced countries and in 85+ emerging markets across 5 continents, including China/East Asia, Russia/CIS, Turkey/The Balkans, Eastern and Central Europe, India/South Asia, LATAM, the Middle East and Africa.

In 2020, Broadman joined Berkeley Research Group LLC (BRG), where he is a partner and chairs the firm's emerging markets transactions practice. He is an independent director on several corporate boards; a National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD) Board Leadership Fellow and an NACD-commissioned faculty for its Board Advisory Services. He is also on Johns Hopkins University's faculty.

At BRG, he both serves as an expert witness in international arbitration and litigation on global investment, antitrust and intellectual property disputes and counselor to C-suites and boards of U.S. and non-U.S. corporations, private equity firms, banks, institutional investors, and sovereign wealth funds. Before BRG, he was the CEO of Proa Global Partners, an international investment strategy firm.

In 2015, he stepped down as Senior Managing Director from PricewaterhouseCoopers, where he founded and led PwC's Global Business Growth Strategy Practice, which operated in 20+ countries. He also served as PwC's Chief Economist, working closely with PwC's Chairman, CEO, and the leaders of PwC's global audit and tax practices.

Before coming to PwC, Broadman was an international private equity investment executive at Albright Capital Management (ACM), the firm chaired by Madeleine Albright, where he served on the investment committee, engaged in capital-raising, and led ACM's proprietary in-house deal flow generation process. Previously, he was a senior executive at The World Bank Group, overseeing the Bank's largest enterprise restructuring and sovereign loan operations—exceeding $3 billion—in China, Russia/CIS, the Balkans, and Africa. He has also held posts at the RAND Corporation and RFF, Inc.

Broadman served in the White House, first as Chief of Staff of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and then as United States Assistant Trade Representative, where he led U.S. negotiations for the establishment of the WTO and NAFTA; of all U.S. Bilateral Investment Treaties; and of all U.S. International Science and Technology Agreements. He also served as a Member of the Committee on Foreign Investment in the U.S. (CFIUS) and on the Board of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC). Earlier he was Chief Economist of the U.S. Senate Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs Committee (chaired by John Glenn). In addition to Johns Hopkins, he has been on the faculty of Harvard University and a fellow at the Brookings Institution.

Board Positions

Strategic Ratings PLC: U.K.-based corporate and sovereign credit rating agency; Chair, Governance Committee, Member, Compensation Committee, and Member, Strategy Committee

PartnersGlobal: International alternative dispute resolution services firm; Member, Executive Committee and Chair, Audit Committee

ArmorText: Cybersecurity intra-enterprise communications software firm

APCO Worldwide: Global crisis management and public relations firm

Lake Tanganyika Floating Clinic: Healthcare and telecom services provider

The Global Business School Network: International association of graduate business schools

U.S.-Russia Chamber of Commerce: Trade association of U.S. companies operating in Russia and the CIS (past appointment)

Corporate Council on Africa: Global trade association of U.S. and non-U.S. multinationals operating in Africa (past appointment)

Memberships

Elected Lifetime Member, Council on Foreign Relations

Elected Lifetime Member, The Bretton Woods Committee

Publications

Several books and numerous articles in professional, peer-reviewed business, finance, economics, law and foreign policy journals

Monthly global business columnist: Forbes, Newsweek, Gulf News; National security columnist: International Financial Law Review

Education

A.B., economics, magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa, Brown University; Ph.D., economics, University of Michigan